ShipEarly is the market leader and has defined omni-channel commerce for branded manufacturers and distributors since 2014. Establishing our company in Thunder Bay was no small task with limited market access to customers or private capital. Thunder Bay Ventures was pivotal in addressing this gap to fund my dream of starting a software company when no one else would.

I can honestly say without their support and commitment our company and the people we employ in Thunder Bay would not exist. Thunder Bay Ventures understands entrepreneurs and the ups and downs of entrepreneurship that is anything but a straight line. I've personally had support from their board and staff and every experience left me more motivated to achieve success knowing I had them cheering me on from the sidelines. I'd highly recommend any entrepreneur to consider their services to start or expand your business.
